Law and justice are very important in any society. The Indian law and justice are based on the foundation of our constitution. The Indian constitution provides protection and liberty to every citizen. Unfortunately every individual do not enjoy equal rights due to the various reasons, the major being lack of awareness about the law. People are not aware about the rights and legal remedies available for them.

Existing system of law and justice is opaque and uncountable. The biggest hurdle is that the people are not aware about their rights and legal remedies available for them. In many circumstances, cases against criminals or certain individuals are not accepted and many cases left pending even after decades the crime has occurred.

Proposed system aims to make the citizen aware about the kind of laws available under the constitution. An individual can login to the web site and get to see all the laws of IPC. The contacts of the lawyers are also available. Even individual can register a case online which is directly sent to the court authority.
